Hurra for the People!

We have from first to last felt an abiding confidence in the sound judgment of the millions. Errors they may commit, but these will be temporary. They feel almost instinctively when affairs are drifting in a the Republican interests if Democrats are remedy under the most adverse circumstances. If the conservative party North that question answered. have not won the victory everywhere, they have given radicalism a shock that will prostrate it. The cry of traitor, raised by partisans to keep ill-used power, and perhaps, hard for Abolition reporters to the threat of summary punishment for the free expression of opinions on the mode of with it. conducting this contest, has not frightened the masses. They have marched up to the ballot-box, and there administered a rebuke to radicalism that it could feel in no other

The Union men of this State will hail the result with unalloyed satisfaction. It is just what they wanted. Radicalism seemed to Congress from Ohio. be rampant and dominant. We could hardly foresee what wild, impracticable and sanguinary measure would come next. If the conservatism of the North did not assert it self, the darkest clouds hung all round the horizon. Even then this Union could not be dissolved permanently; but it would have provided for indefinite campaigns of blood, and the expenditure of oceans of treasure that may be saved. The Disunionists per se need take no comfort from this; indeed, they will not. They understand it too well. They have not been deceived. The Richmond papers, in their croaking, have found out and announced that the conservatives of the North are fighting the battles, not the radicals. The latter stay at home, riot in spoils and power, and abuse the Generals who fight the battles, and strive to divert the war from its legitimate purpose to accomplish party ends. They hear now what the millions at home still say, and if the soldiers were at home to vote, radicalism would not have had room to lay its pestilent head. The result means that the war is to be conducted to restore the vitality of the Constitution and the laws made in pursuance thereof in all the

The sneaking dodge of setting up party designs as means to put down the rebellion is rebuked. The party purpose of the Republicans is and has been a war on slavery. Now, after their own pledge that this is a war to enforce the laws, they ring in their nobby. store the Union and enforce the laws, it is necessary to make war on slavery; to emancipate all the negroes. In the confusion of ideas, upon the plea of military necessity, some began to look without alarm on the abolition of States, the nullification of State laws and the contempt of State

Military necessity was to work changes in the whole system of Government and leave us not the laws and Constitutions we had, but something else, God knows what; but anything that might grow out of a dangerous struggle, protracted for a century, with no hope of settlement until the end of all free institutions.

The Disunionists per se-the men whose ambition demands a separate Government in the South, need not flatter themselves that they see in the result any daylight for their projects in these elections. Notwithstanding the party Lie, these men elected in opposition to the Republicans or Abolitionists are the true Union men. They will demand of the seceded States obedience to the Constitution and laws. They will accept no comprosiise but that. The people of the South wal see, however, that they have mist sen the North. The majority now, ader the most unpropitious circumstances, demand the Union as it was and the Constitution as it is. They hold now, in the midst of the storm-and they vote it-that this Government was made by white men for white men. The Southern people will see, in fact, that they have no rights they need fight for; and that if the contest be kept up, it will be done after the people South have no interest in it.

Again and again we have been told that the North were all Abolitionists. This has been the Secession cry. The result of last Tuesday proves the contrary. "Ah!" say the Secesh, "if we could have the Constitution as it is, and the Union as it was, we would be satisfied; it is just what we want.' With the Disunionist, in fact, this was all hypocrisy; but with most men it is sincere.

Well, here is the vote of the people of the which free States. They, too, want the Union as it was, and the Constitution as it is. Indeed, the result is better than the party aspect shows. Some, no doubt, not elected as Democrats, are conservative men, and will stand by the Constitution. Now, if you

There is no dealing with them but to break their power by force—defeat and disperse their armies. With these indicadebtedness, and withdraw gradually the tions North they will not raise another army. The people South will have no interest in the contest. These conspirators will make desperate efforts to break the asked ever since the legal tender notes were

Letter from Frankfort. [Correspondence Louisvi lle Democrat.]

FRANKFORT, Oct. 16, 1862. Judge Drane arrived here last Monday evening for the purpose of holding the Franklin Circuit Court, if practicable; but he declined doing any business, on account of the war, and opened Court, made a few orders, and adjourned till Court in Course.

Last night the mails from Louisville, Shelbyville, &c., arrived. Some of the mails had been some days on the road, waiting for the road to be clear of rebels. About 51 o'clock yesterday evening a fire broke out within the walls of the Penitentiary, but was soon subdued, so that but little damage ensued. The building was set on fire by some of the convicts. It was an old hemp factory building, and stood in the center of the prison walls to itself. Col. George Dicken, of Henry county, who was taken prisoner by the rebels at Newcastle, arrived here last night, and started home this morning.

Last Saturday week the only child of Col. D., a beautiful daughter, left Newcastle in her carriage determined to rescue her father. She came through the rebel pickets at Frankfort, and then went on through States, and when this is accomplished that in prison. She soon succeeded in getting him paroled, with the privilege of the city of Lexington. The rebels all left Lexington, and yesterday Col. D. and his fair

The Financial Vortex.

Gold is selling to-day at 1301, and bankers' sixty day sterling bills at 145. Last year at the corresponding date gold was at par and exchange was 107½. In other words, legal tander cents, about thirty-seven per cent. additional tax, compared with last year, is imposed on im-ports of tea, coffee, and all foreign mer-chandise. These figures tell in plain terms to every business man that the financial system and commerce of the country are in a crisis of no ordinary magnitude, fraught with ruin to many who are now rich, and bring hunger and suffering to those dependent on their daily labor for their daily

The laborer who received a year ago one dollar for his day's labor, convertible into gold, receives to-day a paper dollar worth only sixty-nine and three-fourth cents in specie or real money; or, in other words, he is now, by the financial policy of Mr. Chase, compelled to give six days' labor for the price of four days. This difference is the most moderate statement of the unprecedented depreciation in the value of our paper currency which is whirling the national honor and credit, and the comfort and happiness of the people, into a fearful vortex of ruin. The prices of all commodities are advancing in a greater ratio than the actual depreciation of the currency as marked by the premium on gold; and every clerk, laborer, or person with a fixed income, finds each week an increasing difficulty in making both ends meet. One dollar out of every three dollars earned is taken from them by the financial policy chosen by Mr

Chase. This paper money system was a voluntary choice on the part of Mr. Chase. He was not compelled by the acts of Congress to use one dollar of legal tender notes. It was left in his discretion to use or not to use them. Congress simply gave Mr. Chase a variety of methods for raising money to select from, and Congress at the same time left the choice of using any one or all of them entirely to him. Mr. Chase, therefore, stands prominently forward as the real cause of all our present currency troubles, and the author of the griping poverty which is beginning to blight the fair paradise of this once happy and prosperous community.

If the Secretary of the Treasury could plead that this disastrous paper money policy he has coolly and deliberately chosen was necessary to aid in putting down the rebellion, or that no other and better course of action were open to him, then we should have not one syllable to utter against him or his financial system. But Mr. Chase possesses no such plea. In December, January and February the World frequently and earnestly (because we felt its import ance) pointed out the simple remedy which was to use no legal tender money but certificates of indebtedness for pay-ments of all contracts, and the $50,000,000 of Treasury 8.65 notes in $10 and $20 for the smaller payments.

The official financial statement of Mr. Chase for the quarter ending June 30, 1862, shows that the whole amount of legal ten-der notes used to that date was $98,620,000. really desire what they do, what is the If, then, the banking and floating loanable capital of the loyal States could carry $98,-620,000 of government certificates of inmoney or currency in specie about $300, enterprise and capital of the people would have been exerted to develop with energy the resources and commerce of the nation, instead of groping wildly in the dark, half paralyzed by dread of undefined evil. The question is asked, "why then does large legal tender notes, as they are paid in for taxes, and then the premium on gold must certainly decline?"

Well, that is a question the World has used. No answer has yet been given, but the time is not far distant when the poverty-stricken masses will demand-and wil insist upon-an answer.

EXCITEMENT OVER THE NEWS OF THE VIC TORIES IN MARYLAND-THE SECESH CRESTFALLEN-THE FREE COLORED REG-IMENT-THE EXPERIMENT OF FREE LA-

[Correspondence of the N. Y. Times.] NEW ORLEANS, Wednesday, Oct. 1, 1862. The city is greatly excited about the war news from the North, and the Secessionists, although they keep up a swaggering air, and find many apologies, and profess to have "later dispatches," are evidently a good deal crestfallen. Among other influence, the war news has had this effect—it has evidently increased the number of applications for taking the oath of allegiance, though I am sorry to say, many, very many indeed, have boldly demanded papers, which register them as enemies of the United States. In the midst of these stirring events comes the additional wonder of the first appearance of the Guardes d, Afrique, the regiment of free colored people called out by Governor Moore, but not put into the field until the arrival of General Butler. It was only a day or two ago that I saw squad of these men bearing their bayoneted muskets proudly, marching down Camp street in charge of some half dozen prisoners of their own color. As trifling as these things may appear to the superficial observer, they really mark momentous eras in the hsitory of this revolution. Suppose that the day the ordinance of Secession was declared in this State, some one had said, that as a result of that insane action in less than wo years a regiment of free negroes, under the command of a "Massachusetts Yankee," would appear in the streets of New Orleans, what kind of a reception would such a prophecy have called forth? Why, jeers, ridicule, or possibly hanging to the nearest lamppost. One of the most interesting and significant things in this connection is the fact that, a few days ago, 'delegation of slaves," belonging to Maunel White, one of the oldest and wealthies lanters of the parish of St. Bernard, below he city, called to see Gen. Shepley, and asked, as citizens, for an audience of the Governor of the State. The request was ranted, and these men informed the General that they came for freedom; they said their fellow-servants in other places were all leaving their masters, and that they wished also to improve their condition, but that it was not clear to their minds how was the best way to do so. They emphatically said, however, that they did not intend to labor much if they could help it without remuneration, and they concluded their requests and protests by asking that if they remained peaceably at home, they might have fair wages secured to them for their services. Gen. Shepley treated the conferring with Gen. Butler, permission was granted to these men to make terms with their master, who consented to have

whole thing will prove a failure-that the

Most people affect to believe that the negroes will work a short time, while the novelty lasts, and then sink into utter idleness. A few believe that they will fulfill the contract faithfully, and that Mr. White will find, in the long run, that voluntary is better than coercive service. Be the result what it may, is it not an index of the rapid strides this war is making, in entirely revolutionizing a system, the advocates which, a few months ago, affected to believe was of heaven-born origin, and in duration eternal, so far as this continent is con-cerned? It seems to me I see the whole fabric giving way-like the fine old forest trees that I met with in the swamps that had been girdled at the roots, though look ing superficially strong, yet are neverthe less losing, every year, one or more limbs and destined by irrevocable fate, at no distant day, to come crashing to their mother earth, first to cumber the ground as an unsightly wreck, and then disap-pear forever. Mr. White, I believe pear forever. Mr. White, I believe, has always had a disposition to ameliorate the condition of his negroes. I re nember reading, many years ago, in the old Delta, a very interesting account of where he established on his plantation a regular court for the trial of turbulent or angovernable negroes. If I mistake not, he acted as judge, and the negroes as jurous and witnesses, and whatever verdict was awarded, it was faithfully carried out. Among my acquaintances I have many of the oldest and most respectable citizens and in this they all seem to agree, that if they could live their lives over again they would not have slaves in their households while living in a large city. They openly declare that the whole of the black popu-lation should be removed cutside of the limits and kept only as agriculturists. All this means that we have suddenly awakened to the fact that all the talk about the contented negro, the faithful negro, was simply the insane ravings of Rhett, Keitt and DeBow; that it is all bosh indeed; that negroes, as slaves, will do very well on plantations away from the whites, but that hey are not fit inmates of the household, annot be trusted, are demoralizing in their influence upon the children and upon the mistress, and a pest and a plague to the Skirmish on the Rappahannock.

U. S. STEAMER MATTHEW VASSEY, RAPPAHANNOCK RIVER, Va, Oct. 8, 1862. I take this opportunity to send you an account of a skirmish and capture of a rebel battery of four guns by the steamers Maithew Vassey, Currituck, Crusader, and Resolute, on the morning of the 7th inst. We captured three contrabands, who gave us the information that the rebels were building a battery at a place called Urbana, and Captain Savage concluded to shell the place, and to find out if the rebels were in any force. He opened on the battery with shell, and the ene ny soon replied. When he found that they were too strong he concluded to fall back. At this time the other vessels came up, and the Crusader opened with her full battery at a distance of three hundred yards, and the enemy soon gave way and left the battery. We landed in boats to destroy the fort, and the enemy attempted to repel our landing. We had one killed in the Crusader's boat, and six wounded. The boat was under the command of Chief Engineer Beckett, who exhibited his bravery and daring in facing the whole fire of the enemy at a distance of erick sends the following: I have just seen a Lieutenant who left Poolsville at nine o'clock this morning. In a retraspact of affine ball lage we, at this time, will say nothing. lage we, at this time, will say nothing. Our readers know that the guerrillas under Jack Allen, John Jones, etc., were nearly every day in town, for some two weeks, and until the regular forces under Claiborne marched into the county. Scores of the finest horses were stolen by them, and the one was personally injured, so far as we have learned. Jack Allen's banditti called at our house several times, and once entered with bayonets pointed at our wife and daughter, undertook to order them about. They wanted the bonds which, as United States Commissioner, we had required certain noted rebels to give. The keys of our desks were given to them by our daughter, who at the same time told them the bonds were not in our pos that when they took Washington city possibly they might get them! Jack Allen, when he found he was foiled in getting the bonds, had our wife and daughter informed, and afterwards proclaimed it on the streets, that if the bonds were not obtained and given up to him within ten days, at the expiration of that time he would burn our property, and hang us! And two or three days afterwards, his relatives circulated it over the county that Jack intended to seize our wife and daughter and take them across the lines into Dixie. But before the period arrived for the execution of his threats, the guerrillas were superseded by the regulars

General Cassius M. Clay has selected from his experience of courts and camps what is most offensive in each to present t a New York audience, recommending the measures of a despot with the manners of a brigand. He must learn that this city is not far enough east to punish differences of to dash out the brains of discussion with the duelist's pistol. Mr. Clay mistakes his longitude, and would be better employed in executing upon the enemies of his country in the field those threats which are indecent provocations to violence when launched in the forum against her friends who dissent from his views of patriotism Mr. O'Gorman's "choice of weapons" is worthy of him. "SECESH" IN PARIS,-The Paris correspondent of the New York Commercial, under date of September 26, says:

"The secessionists have congregated in large numbers at Paris, and hold daily pew-wows at the new Grand Hotel. Among the number are Messrs. Slidell, Eustis, Buchanan of Maryland, Judge Rost, Beverly Tucker, a late editor of the New Orleans Delta, and other well-known gentlemen at home. They all proclaim it was their desire that the Lincoln Government should be run out, and the Union restored under Jeff. Davis and the Southern Constitution. This is particularly the desire of the Maryland, Virgina and Kentucky Secessionists here. They generally disapprove, however, of the crossing of the Potomac by Lee as too haz-ardous an enterprise."

A late London letter says: "The Confederates are building and buying a navy here. The two formidable steamers which have gone out, though not so powerful as they were represented, will s followed by four or five others. Some of these are rams, of great strength and power, expressly built for the Confederates; the others are some of the fastest steamers that were ever built on the Clyde. Two or three months will see the Conicderates in possession of not a large, but a very strong and efficient navy, for which the North will do well to be prepared."

So much for English "neutrality.

A writer in the Cincinnati Gazette of yesterday, tells us who Gen. E. Kirby Smith of the rebel army is. He is the son of the late Joseph L. Smith, Esq., first a lawyer of Litchfield, Connecticut, then an army officer in the war of 1812, later U. S. Judge for the District of Florida, where at St. Augustine, his son General Edward Kirby Smith, was born. He is about thirtyeight years old. He is a graduate of Wes Point, and served in the Mexican war. He some years ago thought of turning his attention to the ministry, but the d-l of secession seized him and made him a rebel to his country.

But that a heavy fight occurred, we think, can scarcely be doubted. Other citizens of Lexington, who arrived, last night, report having heard the cannonading at Lexington, and that it appeared to be getting farther away, as of a running fight. A FLAG FOR THE FIFTEENTH KENTUCKY We suggest to the loyal ladies of Louisville, that now is a time more fitting than ever to Smith's forces were engaged or not was not present the gallant men of Pope's regiment another stand of colors. If we recollect aright, when this regiment was about to leave Louisville, one year ago, the ladies presented it with a flag. It has borne that banner through the fight triumphantly, and although its silken folds are torn and tattered by the iron hail of the enemy, it is still in their possession-a dearly cherished treasure. Let it be preserved as a memenbattle of Chaplin Hills. We suggest, then, that the loyal ladies of Louisville take the matter in hand, and see that the surviving heroes of that gallant regiment be presented

JOHN HARVEY, HAVING FOR UPWARDS of twenty years devoted his professional time ex-clusively to the treatment of Female Difficulties, and worth fifty per cent. More than the amount formed thereon.

TEN YEAR PLAN—NON-FORFEITURE—Originated by the New York Life Insurance Company. By the table on which this class of policies is based, it would seem that a person incurs no risk in taking out a policy. Insuring to-day for $5,000 if he dies to-morrow the five thousand immediately becomes a claim, and if he lives ten years, and makes ten annual payments, his policy is paid up; nothing more to pay, and still his dividends continue, making his life policy a source of income to him while living. The principal argument of weight offered against life insurance is that a party might pay in for a number of years, and then by inadvertence, inability, &c., not be able to continue paying, and then loose all he has paid. The New York Life Insurance Company has done much to open this objection by the Ten Year Plan and Non-Forfeiture. A party by this table, eaganct forfeit what has been paid in. Thus, if one insuring by this plan for $5,000 discontinues after the second year, the company will give him a paid up policy, according to the number of years paid in, viz:

Heavy Battle Reported Between Buell and Bragg-Rebels

Badly Whipped. [Special Dispatch to the Louisville Democrat.] FRANKFORF, Oct. 15.

We have information here, considered re liable, that a battle was fought, yesterday, between Buell and Bragg, and that the rebels were badly whipped.

Lieut. McClure reached here to-night. It is believed that both his life and leg will be saved. All quiet here.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16. The rebel propeller, Alabama, is 1,200 tons burthen, wood vessel, 210 feet long, rather narrow, and carries three long guns on a side, and is pierced for two more amidship; has a 100-pounder rifled pivot gun forward of the bridge, and a 68-pounder on the main deck; has tracks laid forward for a pivot bow gun, and tracks aft for a pivot stern chaser. Her guns are of the Bleakley pattern, made by Wesley & Pres-ton, Liverpool, 1862. She is bark-rigged; is represented to go 13 knots an hour, and 15 under steam; can get steam up in twenty minutes. Her compliment of men is 120, but anxious to ship more.

The Virginia was captured 17th Sept., lat. 39, long. 34., stripped of all valuables, and burned. The Elisha Dunbar was taken the next day, and burned.

The crews of both vessels were put in irons, on deck, on board the Alabama, and kept there, night and day, till transferred to the Emily Farnham.

Capt. Gifford, of the Dunbar, says he understood the Alabama would cruise about large American ships. They had know edge of two ships being loaded with arms for the United States, and were in hopes to capture them. They were anxious to catch the Dreadnaught, and were confident of their ability to capture or runaway from any vessel of the United States. The steamer being in track of both outward and homeward vessels, and more or less being in sight every day, she will make great havec among

The Alabama took her armament and crew on board near — Island, from an English bark. The crew is principally English, the officers being the chivalry of the South. All the water consumed on board is condensed. She has eight month's provisions, besides what is being plundered and about 400 tons of coal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16. Com. Wm. L. Hudson, U. S. N., died in Brooklyn, last evening. He retired in his usual health. lent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, with Gen. McClellan's army, writes as follows, under date of Oct. 14th: Many and important changes have been made in the various briga les, divisions and corps within the past few days, and it is now almost impossible to ascertain the location of any body of men, less than a division. Colonels have been appointed brito-day. gade commanders, brigadiers have as-sumed control of divisions, and several changes have taken place in the commanders of corps since the recent conflicts in this vicinity. Gen. Hooker has been assigned to the command vacated by Gen. McDowell, and as Hooker is now about recovering from his wounds, Gen. Reynolds is in command. An immense number of troops are encamped within five miles around here. Many of the divisions are under orders to march at a moment's warning. The Pennsylvania reserves, which are now in Hook-er's corps, received marching orders at 12 clock yesterday, but have not moved, as I have just arrived from their encampment, which is two miles west of this point. NEW YORK, Oct. 16. The ship Brilliant, of New York, bound from New York to London, was captured and burned, October 3, in lat. 40 long. 5, by the pirate Alabama. The ship Emily Farnof Potsmouth, New Hampshire, from rived the Captain and crews of the whaling barks Virginia and Elisha Dunbar, of New Bedford, captured by the Alabama.

The officers and men of the three vessels burned, were paroled and transferred to the Emily Farnham, which put them aboard the Golden Lead on the 6th. Capt. Hager reports another ship was in sight when the Brilliant was burning, working up to-wards the wreck, probably with a hope of saving life, and as another light was seen at night, it is presumed she also burned. The Golden Lead only brought eight of the crews of the burnt ships, the rest, sixty in number, would be put aboard other vessels fallen in with by the Emily Farnham. The brilliant was built at East Boston, in 1860, 829 tons register, valued, with freight and outfits, at $80,000, owned by J. Atkins & Co., of New York, and Capt. Hager, all of whose property was

FORTRESS MONROE, Oct. 15. The United States gunboat Mahaska, from Wilmington, North Carolina, ran into the Roads this morning. The following petition is published for the purpose of laying it before the City Council, and those who are interested in the tobacco trade of Louisville. Mr. Torian is strongly endorsed through various other sources, and has numerous petitions from other counties in Southern Kentucky, warmly urging him for the position of Tobacco Inspector. He will will endeaver to see as many of the City Council as possible before the day appointed to elect an Inspector, and present his various testimonials for their consideration:

To the Board of City Council of the city of Louisville:
The undersigned citizens of the county of Trigg would respectfully state, that in consequence of the increased quantity of tobacco which will, in the future, likely be shipped from this section to your city for sale, we can but deem it just and right, that one

The great difficulty with all other old-style Machines is too much complication, requiring so much constant adjustment, and such an amount of mechanical skill and ingenuity to use them to advantage, as to render them of little comparative value. But the Sewing Machines manufactured by Greenman & True are not liable to these objections, as any person, on even a moment's examination, will readily discover. They will do more and better work than any other Machine ever offered to the public, making the most beautiful lock-stitch, alike on both sides.
